

Screen Recording

What is Screen Recording?

Screen Recording is a video capture of your computer desktop. To use an analogy: if a screenshot is like using a camera to take a photo of your desktop, then a screen recording is like using a camcorder to record a video of your desktop.

For example, you can show a presentation in Acrobat Reader or PowerPoint and start recording the desktop while you narrate. As the recording continues, you can switch to your web browser to show a website that you want to highlight while you continue talking. You can then switch back to the presentation and so forth.

Resources

Website

<http://cit.nus.edu.sg/screen-recording/>

Other Online Lecture Tools

- Previously recorded Webcast